Invitation: Post AIDS 2006 Conference Briefing

Over 26,000 participants from more than 170 countries attended the XVI International AIDS Conference (AIDS 2006) from August 13-18 in Toronto. This is one of the most important gatherings for the release and discussion of key developments in the global fight against HIV/AIDS. As a follow up to AIDS 2006, the Kaiser Family Foundation and the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS) will host a roundtable discussion on the policy, programmatic, and scientific outcomes of the conference to assess implications for the future.
