

INVITATION

Center for Strategic and International Studies ■ Washington, D.C.

The Center for Strategic and International Studies cordially invites you to:

Fighting Corruption: Challenges and Opportunities for the Millennium Challenge Corporation

With:

Ambassador John J. Danilovich

CEO

Millennium Challenge Corporation

Panelists:

Maureen Harrington

*Vice President Policy & International Relations
Millennium Challenge Corporation*

Frank Vogl

*Co-founder and Member of the Board of Directors
Transparency International*

Callisto Madavo

*Former Regional Vice President for Africa,
World Bank
Georgetown University*

Moderated by:

J. Stephen Morrison

*Director
CSIS Africa Program*

Wednesday, May 9, 2007

3:00 – 5:00pm

CSIS Conference Center
1800 K St. NW

Recently, the MCC published a working paper describing the lessons learned and best practices they have acquired in their fight against corruption. The paper highlights five core principles that serve as both the foundation and watermark of the MCC's anti-corruption campaign – now and moving forward. Please join the CSIS Africa Program and CSIS Hills Program on Governance for a discussion of the major challenges posed by corruption and opportunities for the MCC.

Please RSVP and direct questions to Dustin Frankel at dfrankel@csis.org or (202) 775 – 3263.