

Table of Contents

Introduction Mark Jansson	1
The Need for an Enhanced Interagency Approach to Combating Weapons of Mass Destruction Brian Mazanec	5
Role of Nuclear Weapons in Tailored Deterrence: Cases of the United States and Russia Nikita Perflyev	19
Then and Now: Arab Reactions to the Israeli and Iranian Nuclear Programs Joseph Longa	31
U.S. as Interlocutor in Nuclear Crises: Deriving Future Policy Implications from a Study of the 2001-2002 India-Pakistan Standoff Moeed Yusuf	43
Explaining Australian Nuclear Policy Brian Hoxie	55
The United Arab Emirates Civil Nuclear Agreement: Promise or Problem? Chantell L. Murphy	69
Iran's Nuclear Program: The Four Pitches Raja Karthikeya	79
Intellectual Honesty, Nuclear Weapons, and Disarmament Jonathan S. Snider	93
Understanding Possible International Disarmament with Modeling Kimberly Gilligan	113
Going Nuclear Jamus Jerome Lim	123